

Inigo Update

September 2005

Inigo Launches New Logo

Inigo have launched a new logo that signals the company is leaping forward into the future. “Inigo have transformed in the last seven years from one building in Newbury to a chain of seven centres that span the length of the country. “It is a positive sign of change that has re-energised our staff and caught the attention of clients and partners” states Giles Curtis MD.

The design has evolved from the previous logo and has strong architectural connotations reflecting the historical merit of Inigo’s buildings. Important to Inigo’s brand are the style and quality of the buildings.