Inigo Launches New Website

Home Page of Inigo's Website

October sees the launch of Inigo's new website, found at www.inigo.co.uk. We have been working for some time in-house to create a website with a more modern feel in alignment with our new logo.

The website contains many new features such as the latest company and industry news, improved usability and navigation. There is now also a page dedicated to each of the main services Inigo provide, serviced offices, virtual offices and meeting rooms.

The website also contains some great photographs of our buildings so please take a look to refresh your memory.
